

Enter the Parkinson's Excellence Network Awards 2023!

As a nurse who works directly with people with Parkinson's, you can enter yourself or your service for an Excellence Network award.

This is your chance to show the Parkinson's community and beyond the great care you are providing. Share the impact that outstanding care has for people with Parkinson's and the people who love them.

This year we have made it even easier to enter the awards.

Just submit 500 words to describe your project and a few basic details online today!

Help us to recognise and celebrate the important role which Parkinson's nurses play in supporting people with Parkinson's.

The deadline for entries is Friday 23 June.

PS is there a fellow health or social care professional who you admire?

Someone who goes the extra mile to make a difference to people with Parkinson's? Who innovates and shares? Please share the Parkinson's Excellence Network Awards and encourage them to enter online at www.parkinsons.org.uk/excellence-awards
